THE GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY OF VICTORIA INC PRIVACY STATEMENT

1. The Genealogical Society of Victoria Incorporated (GSV) is a non-profit society which exists to assist its members and others researching their family history.

MEMBERSHIP DATA

2. In order to properly manage the society membership data is kept. This data base includes members' personal information comprising names, addresses, their financial membership status and, usually, occupations, telephone and fax numbers, email addresses and years of birth and membership numbers.

3. Unless the GSV maintains complete and accurate personal information about members it may not be able to effectively provide the service expected.

4. The purpose of membership data is to

- a. facilitate correspondence with members including the mailing of the GSV journal, Ancestor,
- b. facilitate the provision of members' discounts over a range of GSV services
- c. provide data for the development of membership statistics or other information
 - (i) to better understand the present and past composition of GSV membership in order to facilitate planning for the benefit of the members

(ii) to facilitate GSV marketing

d. enable authorisation of entry to the library, members-only web pages and other relevant services.

5. We shall remove a member's personal information from the membership data no later than seven years beyond the membership ceasing, unless the member requests otherwise. This information will then be separately securely stored until it may be reasonably assumed that the member has died, after which the GSV may make the information available for genealogical research provided that use is consistent with the GSV Ethics Policy.

6. Access to the personal information is restricted to:

- a. paid or volunteer staff whose duties require them to have access
- b. members of the GSV Council who are office holders or whose duties require them to have access
- c. programmer(s) who create or maintain the data software
- d. or as otherwise required by law.

7. Names and postal address information may be provided to a commercial mailing house contracted to arrange bulk mailing of the GSV journal, Ancestor, or other GSV information for members. Personal information is not otherwise divulged to any person or organisation unless required by law.

8. A member, or former member, may obtain a copy of their personal information by writing to the Secretary at the current GSV postal address. Unless prohibited by law the Secretary will provide that information.

9. Members have the right to request that the GSV correct information about them which is inaccurate, incomplete or out of date, by contacting the GSV administration or writing to the Secretary at the current GSV postal address.

10. Any complaint about a breach of privacy should be made in writing to the Secretary at the current GSV postal address.

GENEALOGICAL RECORDS

11. Part of the GSV activities undertaken to meet its objectives comprises the indexing of material of genealogical value for the use of members and sometimes for publication.

12. Personal information about persons who may be alive will be included in indexes only if all the conditions in the following sub paragraphs are met:

- a. the index conforms to the GSV Ethics Policy;
- b. none of the personal information is "sensitive" as defined in the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) - i.e. is
